What is a cold in the head? Medical authorities say it is due to uneven clothing of the body, rapid cooling when in a perspiration, etc. The important point is, that a cold in the head is an inflammation of the lining membrane of the nose, which, when unchecked, is certain to produce a catarrhal condition—for catarrh is essentially a "cold" which nature is no longer able to "resolve" or throw off. Ely's Cream Balm has proved its superiority, and sufferers should resort to it before that common ailment becomes seated and ends in obstinate catarrh. What is a cold in the head? Medical

The season's tota' in this city to date now nearly equals that of the famous season of '62, the year of Sacramento's great flood. The records of Thomas Tennent show that 39.29 inches of rain fell here that season to the present date. The same record for this season gives a total of 36.85, only 2.44 inches less than the '62 season. The heaviest rains that season were in January, over two feet being recorded here, contrasted with only 6.02 inches last month. So far for February this season has been the wetter—2.70 inches being recorded against 1.27 inches in (February, '62. In that month heavy rains came later, making the month's total over 7½ inches. If precedence is of value we may expect yet heavy showers during the present month.

My Dear Mr. Campbell: I have a letter from one of your most prominent and esthey can carry in their minds for any great length of time the details of the myriad of cases tried before them, and in any one of which an appeal may be taken. Whatever the remedy for the evil disclosed by the Superior Judge, it must be be applied. The matter is one altogether too important to be passed over and forgotten. It involves a new method of defeating the ends of the law, that must be met and defeated.

Judge Tourgee has a word to say in the Inter-Ocean in praise of the organization of "Sons of Veterans." As a rule, it profits no man to boast that his ancestor wore spurs, since the world is led to ask the boaster, "Well, and what have you done?" The editor of a paper published in any character of his creation a challenge, dar, ing any one to say that the people of the South were in the wrong. Judge Tourgee well puts it. "If the 'cause' of the South was right, then slavery is still right, and the enforced reunion of the States was a foul blot upon the history of civilization."

GERMANY is striving to check the emigration of her subjects. It will not do. The German who makes up his mind that in the land of freedom he can do better the printing work must be done abroad, should be placed in the hands of the local editor or editors. If there is more than one paper published in a community a gener-ous emulation should exist between them as to which can best serve the highest in terest of the community.

Beyond this, the publishers of the local press throughout the State of California should themselves take the matter of advertising their locality in hand, by pictures, by lithographs, by bird's-eye views, by pamphlets, by special editions of their paper, and in every other matter. In short, publishing for a community in this direc-tion should be done by local publishers, just as medical advice is given by the com munity physician or justice is administered by local magistrates. The office of pub lisher is a public office, a public trust, having well-defined functions. The local publisher sees annually large contributions made to foreign publishers, for success in as a rule, a community will afford just about so much, and no more, advertising. Its distribution is a matter of the highest importance to the local paper. If the skilled solicitor collects one half of what the community is willing to spend annually in the street would be required for one cable alone. this direction by the imported drummer impoverishes the field of the local paper. As a rule, a community will afford just what the community is willing to spend annually in the way of advertising, then 50 per cent. of the amount expresses the natural fertility of the local publisher's

While the community owes to the local publisher its hearty support, the publisher owes to the community that degree of enterprise which will make it wholly unnecessary for the community to go away from home for an adequate representation of its attractions and its desirability as a place of residence. To use an illustration which may be unmistakable, the Gazette should do the publishing for Galt and its vicinity. If you have not the mechanical equipment for engraving work such as may be desirable to publish for lithographic work, you can get that work done abroad. Let it be understood, however, when it is published, it goes forth from the office of the Gazette, and it will go with the entire of such a publication is worth ten copies of he best publication that might be coneived, when published by a foreign pub-isher. It is not any more creditable to a local paper that the community must go abroad for proper representation, than it would be to the village physician that the community must go abroad for valuable Communities need not be perplexed as to their duty toward the perambulating solic itors of foreign publishers, if they will take these matters into thoughtful and judicial consideration. Every dollar sent abroad which could have been as judiciously ex-pended at home, is a dollar lost to the com-munity. I know of no community in Calfornia, where a newspaper is published, more, for the same expenditure through the local paper, that could be accomplished by outside publications. This is not a small matter; it is a matter of first importance. It is now becoming known during its present campaign, the rolling ex-hibition called "California on Wheels" will be visited by two millions of people. It will probably visit the St. Louis Exposi-tion, where the managers promise an at-tendance of 60,000 visitors. It will be in Chicago during the annual Chicago Fair, where it will probably be visited by 500,000 more. Into the hands of each of these visitors, some brief, unexaggerated, reliable fornia, and concerning its attractiveness as a place of residence, should be placed. Work in the direction of advertising th desirability of any community should be judicious and persistent. To be judicious it must be thoughtful and economical, or at least not wasteful, and to be persistent it must be done in such a manner as that the contributors will feel that they are receiving in some way the worth of their money. The itinerant publisher, mapmaker and view-taker, who proposes to get up in some attractive form an advertisement for a locality, gets flat subscriptions and takes a large sum by way of advertisement and guarantees for a large circulation, is, as a rule, untrustworthy. I do not know that all these undertakings are not worthy of consideration, but the country generally appears to be full of agents for publications of this character, and, for the most part, they will never be distributed effectively and in a very short the contributors will reven. Characteristic Complaint. Some time since Adair Welcker, the young lawyer-who, while in Sacramento styled himself "the modern Shakespeare," and ground out vast quantities of "poetry"sued the San Francisco Examiner for $100,000 damages for, as he claimed, having libeled him. The demurrer came up for hearing in Judge Hunt's Court on Wednesday, and in a written opinion the Judge stated that 'earns his bread.'

These allegations, Judge Hunt remarked, had no relation to the subject-matter of the action, and would have been stricken out on motion, if such motion had been made. But, while inartistically drawn, the Court thought the complaint might be considered as exting a course of section also considered as extinct an extension and considered as extension as a considered as extension as a considered as extinct as a considered as extension as a considered as a c the court thought the complaint might be considered as stating a cause of action, although the absence therefrom of proper innuendoes—that is to say, allegations explanatory of the meaning and connection of certain portions of the publication in question—might somewhat embarrass the plaintiff upon the trial.

GERMANY,

The Police Conficate all Liberal Pamph lets and Placards. BERLIN, February 20th - The excitement is running high in the electoral campaign especially as regards the Socialists, who apparently are holding conce ted riotous demonstrations all over the Empire, to such an extent as to call for the intervention of the military power.

In Saxony, Alsace, Silesia and the entire city of Konigsberg Socialist addresses have been posted on the walls and torn down by At Schneidenmuehla man caught in the act of posting liberal literature was arrested in a stable and conveyed fettered in an open wagon to the Court. In Konigsberg the police confiscated all liberal pamphlets and placards. Count Sidern, in an electoral speech, said that war with France and Russia was threatened in the near future.

The Tagblatt accuses the police and ndarmes in the province of Posen with distributing conservative pamphlets.

Crowds of people in Muhlheim, a province of Saxony, provoked a tumult during a speech of Weddell Friesdorff, the Imperial House Minister. The corps of Uhlans was called out and many people were wounded. One young girl was dangerously crushed. At Buckaw, near Magdeburg, all the employes of the great machine shops are on a Berlin, February 20th. - Voting for members of the Reichstag was phenominally heavy this afternoon. The entire garrison at Berlin was ordered under arms and by the Emperor's com-mand was given a route to Kreutzburg. A panic was only prevented by the announce-ment that the movement was a military surprise intended to discipline the efficiency of the garrison.

A Socialist Triumph.

Berlin, February 20th.—The total Socialist vote in Berlin was 115,000, an increase of 20,000 since the last election. The ocialists were returned from Madgeburg, Elberfeld, Munich, Konemeigsberg, Chemitz, Ludeo, Bremen and Brunswick. The Cartel parties lost fifteen seats. Five Children Burned to Death.

Kingston (Ont.), February 20th.—An awful tragedy took place here this morning. A tenement house on Bagot street, occupied by the family of John Liston, a longshoreman, caught fire while the inmates were asleep. The family consisted of father, mother and five children. The five children were burned to death and the other members of the family were badly burned while making their escape.
